The Weser Zeitung, shipping and mercantile organ, has two columns on the subject. The paper first describes Wilson's "unneutral policy" before the declaration of war, stating that in spite of this "extrajudicial policy" many Germans be-

"People thought him a theist doctrinaire," says the Zeitung, "but one who was nevertheless conceded that he had the mission of testing international law and the rights of neutrals. This illusion is dispelled, for the American Government is not only fighting actively against the Central Powers, but also taking the sharpest measures against the neutral neighbors of the paper continues that, even if America pretends to enforce these assurances because the shortage of raw materials in America is such that it is impossible to export to Europe, it nevertheless has been openly admitting that this only serves as an excuse, and that the real reason is to enable the thumbscrews to neutrals in order to force them to give up any connections with the Central Powers. Certainly Wilson is not changing his policy that he followed when he upheld so-called neutrality," says the Zeitung, "but his conduct obviously contradicts international the paper argues that a war of aggression is itself illegal, but that a war which is an infringement of neutral rights consists in President Wilson's attempt to force neutral States, to certain combatant measures against the other side, and it makes no difference whether the measures are economic or military. The paper says that the only difference between Wilson's action against the Central Powers and neutrals and the Entente's action against Greece is that Wilson's measures are only economic, while the Entente's are economic and military. the writer of the article, a German international jurist, Dr. Noel declares that the utilization of "gunner threat" against neutrals is the American action worse. He does not believe that the neutral will be able any longer to effectively protest and holds that the United States, which should lead the way in defense of neutrals, has completely failed "because it is now absolutely evident that Wilson, like the rest, only emulates the protection of neutrals for a convenient excuse."

FAILED TO APPEAR BEFORE BOARD FOR EXAMINATION

The rules and regulations as prescribed by President Wilson allow a certain number of days to report for examination after the mailing of the notice to appear by the local board. Unless the party ordered to appear before the local board does certain things within a specified time he is recorded as physically unfit for military duty.

The following is a list of those who failed to appear before the Chester county board for physical examination this week. Some of them, we understand, have enlisted and others will doubtless comply with the requirements. In the event they fail to comply with the regulations the law will be allowed to take its course. The list follows: James Alexander, Chester; John Frederick, Chester; Thomas Colbin, Chester; Willie Cross, Chester; Henry Cherry, Chester; Peter Colbin, Chester; Fred Carter, Leeds; William Carter, Leeds; Jess Craig, Rydman; Marj Frank Butler, Chester; Joseph Parks, McKenna, Chester; William Gilmore, Chester; Andrew Hampall Gayden, Chester; Albert Henry, Chester; Robert, Leeds; Great Falls; Rob Mobley, Chester; Otis Maloney, Chester; John Mastey, Chester; McDonald, Chester; Allen, Chester; Thomas Pedon, Chester; M. R. Robinson, Chester; Richard Thompson, Chester; Robert V. Varnado, Great Falls.

ENCAGEMENT ANNOUNCED. Mrs. Stella Caldwell entertained most charmingly on Thursday morning. After all the guests had arrived thirty score cards bearing the emblem of the "Great Falls" were placed on the tables. The guests were then seated at the tables. The evening was very enjoyable. A series of enjoyable forty-two games were played with the keenest interest. During which time the guests were refreshed with food and drink. When the games were ended a delicious sweet course was served. On each plate there was a tiny card and written upon this card was the following: "We are here to greet the bride elect of sweet Miss Louise Carter, Dr. S. A. Marvin."

After the bride elect had been honored with good wishes, Miss Annie May Peay in a most charming little speech presented her with a pair of hand embroidered pillowcases from the bridegroom. Some of the out-of-town guests present were: Miss Celeste George of Lexington, Miss Lida Martin of Branchville and Miss S. Jordan of Richburg. Miss Carter is one of the city's most charming and popular young ladies and Dr. Marvin is a prominent and popular young pharmacist of Timbuctoo. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

At last the work of rebuilding the bridge across Broad river between Highway Grove and Wilkesville, which was destroyed in the freshets of July, 1910, has been commenced. The Southern Bridge Company of Birmingham, Ala., who have the contract, put a force of men at work there this week, taking the old bridge out of the stream and getting things in shape for work. Much of the steel in the old bridge will be used in the new and the bridge company will pay York county 1.12 cents per pound for every pound of the material used—Yorkville Register.

EXAMINATIONS ARE COMPLETED

The 454 men who were ordered to report before the Chester county local board Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday have all been examined. Physically, with the exception of 24 parties who have either enlisted in the service or failed to appear for their examination. The local board actually examined 420 men in the three days and of this number 80 have been turned down on account of being physically unfit for army service. Excluding those who were not present for examination and also those who failed to pass the examination, there were 340 men in the first call who are physically qualified to serve in the service. Just how many of the 340 physically qualified will be exempted is not yet known and will not be until the claims for discharge have been gone into by the local board, however, it is estimated that between 150 and 200 men out of the 340 will be selected for service.

Since Chester county's quota is 227 men it now looks as if the local board will have to make another call in order to get the quota assigned for Chester county.

Below is a list of those who have been discharged by the local board on account of being physically unfit for service. If your name does not appear in this list you may know that you have passed the physical examination and unless you have cause to be discharged on account of dependents or occupation you will be called upon to report for mobilization camp probably next month.

MARRIED MEN NOT EXEMPT

Law Permits Local Boards to Use Discretion in Exempting Men With Dependents, Proviso Marshal General Crowder Wires Governors

Proviso Marshal General Crowder has sent the following telegram to governors of all States with reference to his ruling concerning dependents of the ground of marriage: "Please call attention of local boards to the fact that a soldier's pay is not less than $30 a month and that all clothing, subsistence, medical treatment, and housing are furnished him. Under the law he may allot any portion of his pay to a dependent. Many soldiers receiving $30 a month are easily able to allot $25 monthly to the support of dependents."

"In case of death in line of duty the Government will pay to the beneficiary designated by the soldier six months' pay. Section 4 of the selective service law provides that persons dependent upon them for support which renders their exclusion or discharge inadvisable may be discharged, but it does not require that they shall be discharged in all cases."

"The discretion of local boards is invoked by this provision and such boards may well take the facts related above into consideration in deciding claims for discharge due to dependency with a view to determining whether, as a matter of fact, the person claiming such discharge is not in as good or better position to support his dependents after separation for military service than he was before. If such is the case, of course, the discharge should not be granted."

Boy Loses Life In River.

Coroner J. Henry Gladden was called to Great Falls yesterday afternoon to hold an inquest over the body of John Williams Robinson, the eleven year old son of Mr. B. Glenn Robinson, of that place.

Young Robinson, along with three other boys was in bathing and in some manner Franklin Watts, one of the boys, got into water over his head and being unable to swim was sinking. The Robinson lad, who could swim, went to his rescue. The Watts boy managed to get hold of a willow limb and pulled out. Young Robinson was drowned.

The accident occurred yesterday about two o'clock and happened just before the spill-way at Great Falls.

The body was brought to Chester and was taken to Whitmore today where the inquest will be made.
